When it came to finding the perfect dress, Maia needed little help: "I fell in love with my Elie Saab gown early on—I even went back to try it on three times, and I cried every visit!" But accessorizing the frothy lace and tulle dress was another story—in the end, her look was a family affair. Her "something blue" ring was once her grandmother's, her diamond necklace was a wedding gift from James, her in-laws gave her vintage earrings, and her mother-in-law had her hairpiece made from an antique brooch. —Amanda Black
